

CHICKENS DUCKS and TURKEYS

PROFIT IN RAISING TURKEYS

Farmers are cautioned to give Marketing Problems More Attention—Best Birds for Breeding.

For those who conduct the business carefully turkey raising is likely to be very profitable. The demand in this country continues to increase, apparently, faster than the supply. Farmers who go into the business, however, are cautioned to give the marketing problem considerable attention in advance.

In the turkey publications of the United States department of agriculture, which is Farmers' Bulletin No. 264, the following rules for selecting turkeys for breeding are given:

First—Always use as breeders turkey hens over one year old. Be sure they are strong, healthy, and vigorous, and of good medium size. In no instance select the smaller ones. Do not strive to have them unnaturally large.

Second—The male may be a yearling or older. Do not imagine that large, overgrown males are best. Strength, health, and vigor, with well-proportioned, medium size, are the main points of excellence.

Third—Avoid close breeding. New blood is of vital importance to turkeys.

The Great American Bird.

Better send a thousand miles for a new male than to risk the chances of inbreeding. Secure one in fall so as to be assured of his health and vigor prior to the breeding season.

BETTER ATTENTION TO EGGS

They Should Be Uniform in Color and Shape, and Regular in Size as Far as Possible.

More attention should be paid to eggs at all times and under all circumstances. This means that they should be uniform in color and shape and regular in size as far as possible. If they had more attention paid to them at our fairs and were brought to the notice of the public and the farmers in particular, much good would come from it. Let us offer good prizes for a display of eggs, say not less than three dozen, and have it stipulated that they be strictly fresh; that no cold storage stock need apply for the sake of selecting for size. If such a plan were carried out at a number of our fairs for a few years the selection of good eggs would go to be a science and would interest the poultry public to a great degree, and be of untold benefit to all of us, whether as producers or consumers of eggs.

GOOD POULTRY FEED ADVICE

Poor Economy to Give Fowls but One Kind of Grain—Make Them Exercise by Scratching.

There is no economy in feeding fowls one kind of grain, for that compels them to eat more than they ought in order to get a sufficient quantity of food elements.

A large part of the egg is water, which shows the necessity of providing layers with an ample supply of pure clear water in fountains or dishes which are frequently disinfected.

A sluggish hen is never a good layer. The flock should be made to exercise by scratching for whole and cracked grains in a deep litter of clean material and jumping for green food, such as a cabbage or mangels.

Fattening Water Fowls.

By putting some care into the fattening of water fowls the farmer's wife will be able to realize more out of them. She will be in shape to select orders for fine table water fowl; and once her name is established she will have more orders for them than she can fill.

Drafts Mean Roup.

A draft in the poultry house means roup in the flock. Prevention is the best method and much cheaper than the cure.
